

After treatment finishes; What now?

“I expected to be elated because my treatment had just finished, instead I had never felt so alone or frightened”

Finishing treatment can be a daunting experience. Losing contact with nursing and medical staff can leave people feeling lost and abandoned.

Come and join us for a six week course.

It will give you chance to deal with these feelings, answer questions you might have and meet others who are in a similar situation.

For further details about the next course please contact:
